Annual Review

Oncology Nursing
Foundation

Dear Esteemed Supporters and Partners,

In 2025, the oncology nursing community paused to celebrate an extraordinary milestone for the Oncology Nursing Society—50 years of progress, leadership, and impact. It was a year that honored how far the profession has come and recognized the evolution of the oncology nurse across generations, practice settings, and career stages.

For the Oncology Nursing Foundation (ONF), this milestone year reaffirmed who we are and why we exist: to ensure oncology nurses have the philanthropic support they need—at every stage of their career—to grow, lead, innovate, and sustain themselves in a rapidly changing healthcare environment.

Thanks to donors like you, 2025 was not only a celebration of legacy, but a year of action and investment. Your generosity fueled new and expanded initiatives that strengthen the profession today while preparing it for what's next—advancing academic opportunities, recognizing innovation through new awards, and deepening our commitment to nurse resiliency and well-being. These efforts build upon the strong foundation you have established and will continue to grow in the years ahead.

Throughout the year, ONF partnered with our colleagues across the Oncology Nursing Society (ONS) and Oncology Nursing Certification Corporation (ONCC)—united by a shared mission to elevate oncology nursing. Together, we extend our reach, align our resources, and ensure philanthropy amplifies education, certification, research, and leadership across the entire oncology nursing enterprise.

As you'll see in this report, your support in 2025 made much possible:

- Meaningful investments in oncology nursing research and innovation
- Expanded access to education and professional development
- New resources designed to support nurses' resilience and longevity in the field

Each of these outcomes reflects a belief we hold deeply: when nurses are supported, the entire cancer care continuum is strengthened.

The 50th anniversary year has concluded, but the momentum it created builds to the future. With gratitude for all that has been achieved—and with determination for what lies ahead—we remain committed to walking alongside oncology nurses, ensuring they have the tools, opportunities, and recognition they deserve.

Thank you for being an essential partner in this work. Your support continues to shape the future of oncology nursing.

With sincere appreciation,

Angie Stengel, MS, CAE

Impact in Action: Supporting Oncology Nurses at Every Stage

Fueling Innovation Through Nurse-Led Research

ONF invests in nurse scientists whose work is transforming cancer care—advancing symptom science, survivorship, digital health, and equitable care delivery.

In 2025, research funding supported projects addressing some of oncology's most pressing challenges—from cognitive impairment to fertility preservation to patient-reported symptom management.

One such recipient, Karen Wickersham, PhD, RN, is piloting a self-management intervention for patients with advanced lung cancer—helping individuals better manage complex oral therapies and improve outcomes.

“ I am beyond honored to receive a research grant from ONF. I am passionate about helping patients with advanced lung cancer to manage their oral targeted therapy. To that end, this grant provides me the necessary resources to pilot-test an intervention for these patients. I could not accomplish this without ONF's support. ”

—Karen Wickersham, PhD, RN

Advancing Professional Growth at Every Stage

ONF supports oncology nurses not only in entering the field—but in growing, adapting, and leading throughout their careers.

In 2025, the inaugural ONS Bridge™ Scholarship funded conference access for oncology nurses seeking flexible, high-quality professional development.

For many recipients, this meant gaining new knowledge without stepping away from patient care.

“ I learned so many new things. I loved the discussion on brachytherapy, rural oncology, the benefits of oncology urgent care, the importance of fertility preservation... I could go on and on. The increased knowledge will help me better educate patients. At the same time, I have a wider perspective on the field of oncology and was able to better educate my colleagues. I am so appreciative of the scholarship I received. ”

—Helena Harvilicz, MPH, BSN, RN, OCN®

Investing in the Next Generation of Oncology Nurses

Education is one of the most direct ways ONF creates lasting impact—opening doors for nurses to grow, lead, and transform care.

In 2025, ONF awarded 39 academic scholarships totaling $231,000, supporting students pursuing BSN through PhD degrees across 37 institutions in 20 states.

These scholarships don't just reduce financial burden—they accelerate careers and expand access to high-quality cancer care in communities nationwide.

“Receiving this scholarship through ONF is truly life changing. This scholarship does more than ease the financial burden of pursuing my master's degree; it also serves as a powerful reminder that my goals and passion for oncology nursing matter. It is a profound reminder of your belief in my potential. It is a chance for donors to see firsthand the real tangible impact their generosity does to transform the course of someone's life—creating a domino effect, paying it forward into our communities, touching hundreds of lives through academic achievement, personal growth, and the future successes of one person you've empowered. It is proof that your support does not just change lives—it shapes our future and changes history. Thank you for believing in me and helping me to change and shape the future of oncology nursing. Thank you for your incredible faith in my abilities and confidence to succeed. Thank you for the chance to become more than I am now. Thank you for the opportunity to give back to the community I live in and to serve the amazing people I meet every day.”

—Heather Halsey, RN, OCN®, MSN

Strengthening the Caregivers Who Care for Others

The demands on oncology nurses continue to grow, making well-being and resilience essential to sustaining the workforce. In 2025, ONF launched a new initiative focused on nurse resilience and long-term well-being, made possible through the generosity and vision of Cindi Cantril, MPH, RN, OCN®-Emeritus, alongside partners who recognize that caring for nurses is critical to caring for patients.

This work will deliver flexible, role-specific resources designed to meet nurses where they are across settings, specialties, and career stages.

Honoring 50 Years. Building What Comes Next.

As ONS marked its 50th anniversary, ONF reflected on a legacy of philanthropy that has advanced oncology nursing for decades while continuing to invest in what comes next.

From research and scholarship to professional development and well-being, every investment is designed with one goal in mind: ensuring oncology nurses and the patients they serve have the support they need.

The past 50 years tell a powerful story. The future will be defined by how we continue to invest in the nurses at the heart of cancer care.
